

Hi Narai,

Just a couple of things but this may be my misunderstanding of it so don't be insulted:

Love the visuals

The play and stop button seem to have the same function (would a pause button be better).

I can't get it to stop spinning once started

The middle slider needs a label, what is it for?

The movement really helps but it would be better if the gears match the gear input number (can see the difference visually too)
